Our Services

Outsourced product development services for ISV's and private companies

Global Delivery Model for Software Product Development enables product development companies (a.k.a. independent software vendors (ISV) or software publishers) to reduce their cost of software product development dramatically while keeping control on the product architecture. It also enables easy ramping up and ramping down of product teams based on business priorities.

We developed a unique joint-venture model of partnering with software companies to create a dedicated virtual offshore subsidiary complemented by highly skilled product engineering experts-on-demand. We partner with software companies for world-class product development by aligning technology and competency based domain excellence centers that drive long-term value to our clients through knowledge retention. This offers the best of both worlds; the flexibility of outsourcing combined with the control of a captive subsidiary without the drawbacks of either. Our services assist ISVs to reduce their cost of product development dramatically while keeping a control on the product architecture, intellectual property, and dedicated project teams.

Custom tailor software development and system integration

Custom application system developments provide the IT backbone for our clients business. Our expert technical team understands your application requirements thoroughly, prepares architecture, develops, tests and finally implements it. We rely on industry-standard software development practices and rigorously test the applications to ensure defect-free delivery. Traction in cutting-edge technology solutions helps our clients with a lengthier shelf-life of applications with minimum maintenance and support requirements.
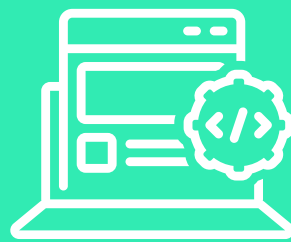

Process Management Framework ensures that applications are rapidly architecture, developed, tested and implemented. Our domain knowledge allows us to develop scalable and flexible application architecture incorporating business logics, presenting our clients with next-generation applications that generate greater efficiency through high level of automation.
